DRUG AND ALCOHOL TESTING

Students accepted into Delgado's Allied Health Programs will be required to comply with the substance abuse policies of Delgado and of the provider(s) where they are assigned for student training. These policies include any prohibitions against being under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs; possessing, using or distributing illegal drugs; or the abuse or unauthorized use of controlled substances. Students accepted into the Allied Health programs will be required to undergo, at their expense, drug and alcohol testing required by Delgado and by the health care provider(s) where they are assigned for student training.

Positive drug or alcohol test results, refusal to submit to such testing, or tampering with the administration or the results of or samples of any drug and alcohol testing will make students ineligible to enter or continue in Delgado's Allied Health programs.

Additional information regarding the policies and testing procedures will be provided to students after they receive written notice they have been provisionally accepted in an Allied Health program.

Students may also refer to Delgado's policy, "Drug-Free College" (PR-2530.1A, 1997) for additional information

CRIMINAL HISTORY CHECKS

Students who receive notice that they have been provisionally accepted into a Delgado Allied Health program will be required to undergo, at their expense, a criminal history check to determine if they have been convicted of any federal, state, or municipal violations.

Additional information regarding this policy and the procedure for conducting this check of criminal history will be provided to students after they receive written notice they have been provisionally accepted in an Allied Health program.

Students may contact an Allied Health Academic Advisor if they need additional information regarding these policies.
